TURNER-DENMARK

A wedding of interest was that of Miss Annie Laurie Turner to Mr. Ewell Thomas Denmark, which took place at high noon, on April 18th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Turner, on East Main street.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Leland Moore, pastor of the Methodist church. The entire home was thrown open and attractively decorated in pink and green.

Tall pedestals supporting wicker baskets filled with pink roses were arranged at pleasing intervals. In the ceremony room an arch of white lattice, encircled with pink and white roses, was formed against the altar of ferns and palms. On each side burned the tall, shaded tapers of pink, which cast a soft glow over the wedding scene.

Before the ceremony, Miss Rachel Herman, of Scotland, sang "Benedictus" and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Miss Alma Murphy, of Atlanta, played the wedding music.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride and groom, preceded by the bridesmaids, entered the church. The bride wore a gown of white satin, with a train of white tulle, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a tuxedo.

BIRTH

Mrs. and Mrs. Samuel W. Chance of Savannah announce the birth of a daughter on April 12th. She will be called Helen Inez. Mrs. Chance will be remembered as Miss Inez Brown.

In addition to the infirmary, there will be erected an ice refrigerating plant to care for the needs of the institution; a power plant which will generate all electric current used in the building, and main dining rooms for patients of the institution. The entertainment of those patients who may be able to be out of bed, will be cared for in the building of a theatre on the large site, where moving pictures and other entertainment features will be provided from time to time, it is said by the authorities.

Another feature of the plans perfected call for landscape gardening which will add to the beauty of the site in providing paths, gardens and walks where the patients may wander in their effort to regain lost strength. The building will be so erected as to provide for the "sunning" of patients on the roof of the institution, where the top will be of concrete, and patients can be brought from their rooms on a stretcher, carried by elevator to the roof, and there bask in the sunlight. The method is one of the latest which scientists have found a deadly enemy to the tubercular germ—sunlight and fresh air.

It is also provided that the windows of the various rooms, and connecting porches, can be manipulated so as to allow fresh air to fill the wards when weather permits.

Dr. Tom Zetterow, of Dublin, formerly of Statesboro, will regret to learn that he was painfully burned about the face and hands on Monday of last week due to the explosion of a gasoline lamp.

Although resting as well as can be expected it will be several weeks before Dr. Zetterow will be able to resume his professional duties.

IDEAL SANITARIUM TO BE BUILT BY STATE

BUILDING TO COST HALF MILLION DOLLARS TO BE ERRECTED AT ALTO.

Atlanta, Ga., April 22.—With construction of the large hospital upon the new state sanitarium erected at Alto at a cost of $500,000, and to be one of the most modern and up-to-date institutions of its kind in the United States, equipped with facilities, and so designed by architects, to fight the deadly tubercular germ by means of the latest methods now being employed. It will require a solid year, approximately, it is said, to complete construction of the huge hospital which will measure about three hundred feet for the entire building.

Plans for the building have already been completed by local architects, according to Dr. T. F. Abernethy, State Health Commissioner, and as advertisement of the building is scheduled to get under way June 1. The appropriations made for the addition to the present hospital have been derived from revenue by the sale of cigar and cigarette stamp taxes.

In the main building to be erected this year, will be housed tubercular patients of all stages, while it is planned later, with the erection of four additional buildings, to separate the patients according to the seriousness of their cases.

It is also, understood, according to information reaching health authorities, that the Masons of Georgia are contemplating buildings a special children's unit at Alto which will allow greater accommodations for the adults and which unit will be of similar design as the proposed buildings.

Situated on a high hill, overlooking the Blue Ridge mountains the Alto Sanitarium, when completed, will have an ideal location, second to no other in the State, say the authorities. In the new building or the main infirmary, no negroes will be cared for, it is said, but only white patients will be treated. The negroes, it is understood from Dr. Eiden W. Gilden, superintendent of the Alto Sanitarium, will be cared for in the present hospital which will provide for around

WILL BRING RESULTS

Somebody at the highway conference in Savannah last week, who said he understood the feeling of the people of Georgia, gave the solemn warning to the advocates of the road paying district that they will not consent again to the formation of such a district. His statement was based upon the assumption that the people of Georgia are willing to give up any special district so great a benefit.

It may be that the gentleman was correct in his prediction. It reminds one of the objection offered at the marriage when the minister said "If anyone knows cause why these two persons should not be joined together in matrimony, let him now speak or else forever hereafter hold his peace."

A defeated soldier standing by interposed, "I object; I want the girl myself."

If Georgia want paved roads, it is time for her to get after them; if she doesn't want them, she ought to be willing for those to get them who do want them. Road districts cannot serve every part of the state, to be sure. It might not be expected. A state-wide system of roads would be of more benefit to the state than a number of districts; but a district road system is better than no system at all.

The Coastal Plains highway, running from Savannah southwest to the Florida line, voted in overwhelming by the people recently, has set a precedent. The people have been made aware to the advantages of paved roads. Road values have advanced greatly and important sales have already been made upon the ground to the coming improvement. Georgia could have the same thing all over the state if she went into the building of roads upon the same plan. The proposed Coast-to-Capital highway may not be gotten through, but it will at least start something in the direction, possibly upon a much larger scale.

Young men talk in millions when they come to appropriations and in tens when it comes to lowering taxes.

PAYING FOR PAVED ROADS

That the bonding of the state for building paved roads is an economical proposition, becomes more apparent as one studies the matter. Debt is a hard master and is to be greatly feared. Waste is a more cruel master and much more to be feared.

To bond the state and build good roads would mean that the people of Georgia are saving where they are now wasting. Whether we build good roads or not, we are paying for them, and paying dearly.

W. T. Anderson, a member of the Georgia highway commission, has been giving some study to road matters and has given the people the benefit of some of his researches. He makes the assertion that it costs 2 1/2 cents per mile more to run a car on a bad road than over a paved highway. Therefore for every mile a man drives his Ford, he pays 2 1/2 cents tribute to bad roads. He is paying for paved highways without getting them.

Among other interesting facts given by Mr. Anderson are these:

"Georgia gasoline users are paying now 4.4 total gasoline tax, only 3 1/2 of which goes to the state, while one-half cent goes into the pockets of the oil companies selling gasoline in Georgia. This half-cent amounts to $600,000 per year that Georgia motorists pay extra to the oil people."

"When the tax of half a cent was put on gasoline in inspection, the oil companies did not raise the price just a half cent, but they did raise it one cent. The state asks only half a cent, and this results in the other half-cent going into the pockets of the oil people. Oil inspection fees go into the funds of the state treasury and to pay oil inspectors, and other expenses."

"This accounts for one cent out of the four cents tax paid."

One cent out of the three remaining three cents goes to pay off the W. & A. rentals, which were hypothecated a few years ago by Gov. Hardwick. It will be needed until 1926.

"Two cents of the tax is left. Of this, one cent goes to the various counties for road work, apportioned over the entire state."

"This leaves only one cent of the gasoline tax to be used by the State Highway Commission for road construction and maintenance. At this rate of expenditures, it will require 80 years to build a state system of paved roads."

"Georgia is spending $300 per mile each year to keep up dirt roads, Mr. Anderson stated. It costs the state just $30,000 to drag all the state roads after a rain. Paved roads will cost only $12 per mile each year for upkeep. This one item will alone save the people of the state an enormous sum."

Actual tests, according to Mr. Anderson, have proved that it costs 2 1/2 less per mile to operate automobiles on paved roads than on dirt roads. This is just an excess tax on the car owners in the shape of gasoline, tires, and general repairs.

"This excess tax would pay for the bonds alone. Georgia has $25,000 automobiles valued at $200,000,000, now, and it can be seen that this saving would be worth the cost to obtain it."

NEWSPAPERS EDITORS ARE SERVING READERS

Macon, Ga., April 21. — "It is claimed that the newspapers are giving what their readers demand. I deny this," Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, said in an address to Mercer University Journalism students Friday.

"It is not the part of the newspapers to follow the lead of their readers but to make their readers follow them into better things than the rampant rascality and anarchy of the day. Our young people are being falsely trained, and largely by much of the stuff that they find in many of our newspapers."

The Baltimore editor said that no man should attempt to be a newspaper worker without intimate familiarity with the Bible, even if he studied it entirely without regard to its religious teachings. Nowhere else can there be found such a wealth of knowledge on all human affairs, he said.

"Journalism is a calling, a profession almost akin to that of the minister of the gospel. It should be regarded as by every man who enters the profession. The newspaper worker who can not reverently day after day, ask for divine guidance in all of his work does not appreciate the responsibility of the printed word."

Mr. Edmonds had expected to be present to deliver the address in person, but due to illness in his family was unable to do so and forwarded his address to Thomas J. Hamilton, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, who is arranging a series of such newspaper lectures for Mercer students.

WE HOPE IT'S TRUE.

The other day we read a little news item that had been cabled over from London which should be spread on the front page of every paper in the world—if it proves to be true. It states that British physicians and chemists working together have succeeded in perfecting a vaccine known as "toxin anti-toxin" which, it is claimed, prevents those vaccinated with it from contracting the flu, diphtheria, infantile paralysis or whooping cough. There is no end to the possibilities of medical science, and no reason to doubt but that these men may have discovered something that will prove a blessing to the whole world for all time to come. If they have there should be erected at some suitable spot the greatest monument ever built.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of folks recommend Doan's. Here is Statesboro proof:

R. Brasel, retired carpenter, 228 E. Main St., Says: "I caught a cold in my kidneys and suffered from backache. I could hardly get dressed mornings. I had to get up during kidney trouble. A heavy dull ache across my kidneys made me miserable, and I wasn't of much account. I was continually tired and languid and felt out of sorts. After long night to pass the kidney secretions. I often had to grasp hold of something to keep from falling with dizziness. I used Doan's Pills from the Bulloch Drug Co., and one box cured me of the attack."

MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD HERE MONDAY

A most enjoyable occasion of the week was the Memorial Day exercises held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Lane on Monday. It was one of those old fashioned, spirit-filled parties when the Veterans, their wives, the Daughters and Sons met together in happy accord. The memorial idea was carried out in detail. The Confederate flag of the local camp being hoisted on the front porch while smaller flags and bunting together with garden flowers were used throughout the spacious hall and rooms which were thrown together.

The following program was rendered: Opening prayer—Rev. H. R. Moore. Reading—Helen Oliff. Address to Veterans—Col. R. Lee Moore. Song—Mrs. Anna Potter. Immediately after the program an informal luncheon was served in three courses. Mayor Homer C. Parker, representative of the Ex-service men extended a welcome to the Veterans in behalf of the city; Dr. R. J. Kennedy welcomed them in behalf of the county; Col. Charles Pigue, representative of the Sons of Veterans gave a very inspiring talk on the "Duties of the Sons"; Col. R. Lee Moore paid a most glowing tribute to the Women of the Confederacy.

After the luncheon the Veterans retired to the porch where cigars were served them, and in the meantime a contest was being played on the table. It was carried out in the following manner: Pictures of a number of the prominent men of the Confederacy were placed on the wall with their names covered, then the Veterans were called in, given a card and pencil, and the fun began. Each Veteran was assisted by a Daughter. The winner in this lively contest was Mr. John R. Evans of Screven county, the prize being a box of cigars. Although Screven claims Mr. Evans now, he served with the Bulloch county troops being a member of Company K. Fifth Georgia Cavalry.

Much credit is due the decoration and entertainment committees for making this occasion a success. Mrs. Lane made a charming hostess and the Veterans and all others present expressed themselves as having thoroughly enjoyed the day.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR SCHOOLS

Instead of the regular missionary circle meeting a box packing social will be given on next Monday afternoon at the T. E. L. Sunday School class room, at four o'clock.

The guest list includes every woman of the Statesboro Baptist church and a large attendance is cordially invited.

The sending of a box to Mary P. Williamson, the W. M. U. Mountain School of North Georgia comes as a fitting close to a study of Old and New Testament history.

Miss Georgia Blitch is chairman of committee on plans and both programs and social features are being stressed.

Everybody is expected to bring a gift for the institution.

THE BUSINESS BAROMETER

Boys—Girls: The eyes of the world are on the South to-day as they were on the west twenty years ago. Of course, Florida will be the pleasure resort, but Georgia will be the Business resort.

Never were the chances and demand for young men and women to enter business so great—and it only asks three questions:

Are you honest? Are you willing to work? Have you been trained by teachers with actual business experience?

If you can answer the first two questions in the affirmative, come and see us—we can help you to a good permanent position.

Civil Service examinations are to be held soon—ask for application blanks.

PARTY BACK FROM FLORIDA GIVE ENTHUSIASTIC REPORT

Judge S. I. Moore, F. I. Williams, S. L. Terry and Dr. J. C. Lane returned Friday from a ten-day's pleasure trip through Florida, which included practically every section of the state. The going trip was down the East Coast as far as Miami, from which point they returned by way of the West Coast to Tampa, St. Petersburg and Clearwater.

The gentlemen return enthused with the conditions they found throughout the state. One of them reported in this language: "The truth about Florida sounds so unreasonable that one who tells it would be accused of prevaricating. Nobody who has yet come back has told half the truth about the state."

This same gentleman declared that he believed Clearwater to be the prettiest place he saw on his entire trip.

WAYCROSS METHODISTS REJECT UNIFICATION

Waycross, Ga., April 24.—The First Methodist church of Waycross voted Sunday morning on the proposed plan for the unification of the Northern and Southern branches, and the result was a rejection of the plan. The church was divided 186 to 90. Nine delegates were appointed to attend the district conference to be held in Folkston, Ga., on May 10, and have been instructed to vote against the plan.

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Bro. Gransdale, who has been in Glenville for the past ten days in training, will return to Statesboro the latter part of the week and will preach at the morning hour, Sunday. His subject will be "The Seven Fold Unity of the Church." A duet, "The Witness of God's Love" by Davis, will be sung by Mrs. Matthews and Miss Newton. At the evening service the pastor is planning to have several short talks on Lawlessness in Georgia. A chorus, "Evening Prayers," by Schnecker, has been arranged by the choir for the evening.

There were four hundred and twelve in Sunday School last Sunday and the goal for next Sunday is four hundred and fifty. Visitors are cordially invited to all of the services of the church.

DR. ANTHONY TO PREACH METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Dr. Bascom Anthony, Presiding Elder of the Savannah District, will make his second visit of the year to Statesboro next Sunday evening, at which time he will preach at the Methodist church. The service will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

The people of Statesboro are always glad to welcome Dr. Anthony to the city. His messages are entertaining as well as intensely practical. A large crowd will be present to hear him Sunday evening.

On Friday evening, May 1st, at the church, the second quarterly conference for 1925 will be held. All members of this conference are expected to be present. The public generally is also invited. Dr. Anthony will preside at the meeting.

The morning service Sunday will be conducted by the pastor. Special music is being arranged for these two services by the church choir.

AUXILIARY SOCIETY ORGANIZED BY DOCTOR'S WIVES

All the wives of Bulloch and Candor physicians were invited to meet at Statesboro Sanitarium 11 a. m. April 18th. The purpose of the meeting was to organize an Auxiliary to Bulloch-Candler county Medical Society.

Mrs. W. H. Meyers of Savannah, the director for first district was present. After explaining the work and finding eleven doctors' wives willing to cooperate it was decided that a permanent organization should then be made.

Mrs. Meyers appointed Mesdames R. L. Cone, B. A. Deal and J. M. McElveen on nominating committee. After a few minutes retirement Mrs. Cone reported that Mrs. A. W. Quattlebaum had been chosen the nominee for president, and Mrs. W. E. Simmons the nominee for secretary. Mrs. Quattlebaum thanked the committee and asked her name not be used because she was unable to serve and Mrs. D. L. Deal was elected president; Mrs. A. W. Quattlebaum, vice president; and Mrs. W. E. Simmons, secretary. Mrs. A. J. Mooney and Mrs. J. H. Whiteside were appointed delegates to the state meet in Atlanta May 12-15.

Dr. H. H. Oliff invited the auxiliary to a fish fry at Lower Lotts creek (date to be given later).

Mrs. R. L. Cone was appointed chairman of membership committee, Mrs. F. F. Floyd chairman of House committee, and Mrs. A. J. Mooney chairman of program committee.

Immediately following the first meeting of the new auxiliary Mrs. F. F. Floyd served a delicious buffet luncheon.

AIR MAIL CONFERENCE CALLED FOR SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., April 25. — The Savannah Board of Trade has called a meeting to Savannah on May 6 of representatives of state and government officers in the states from Massachusetts to Florida, for the purpose of pushing the Boston-Miami, via Savannah air-mail route.

The meeting will be an important one, and invitations have been sent governors, senators, congressmen, mayors and boards of trade in the southeast states.

SATURDAY NIGHT BIG TIME IN NABROW

Also was Monday morning a big time in mayor's court when Mayor Parker called the offenders before him. Some half a dozen of the shiftless and non-working kind had been apprehended in their midnight revelry and were sentenced to thirty days in jail or $20.00 each in cash. Since they have no regular jobs nor did not want any the cash was missing and were sent to the city jail for the thirty day period. Several samaritans offered their financial assistance if they were promised to have assistance in their cotton fields in payment of the kindness. It is understood that the response generally was that we have not planted any cotton and we haven't got any cotton to chop. So Nabrow will be quiet for the next thirty days. His messages are entertaining city.

For The Past 33 Years

Through thirty-three years the Bulloch Times has rendered service to the people of Bulloch county. How well we have served, the people who know our record are able to judge. Not always pleasing everybody, perhaps, but always striving to do those things which our human judgment has taught us was for the best common good.

To those who have stood by us in the past, we are grateful; to those who may not have approved, we continue to extend the best of good will. With the support of the good people of Bulloch county we are now turning our faces forward to improved record of service

For The Next 33 Years

City's Dwellings All Built on Log Rafts

One of the oldest cities in the world is Simon Sound, on the coast of British Columbia. The entire place is made up of floating dwellings. The chief industry in that section is logging and most of the work is done on the sides of steep cliffs where it is almost impossible to build a house. Then, too, the loggers are continually moving to new sites. So they solve their housing problem by building comfortable dwellings of cedar shakes, similar to shingles only about twice the size and rougher, on log rafts. The loggers live in these raft houses for many years, towing their homes to new sites for logging.

A number of years ago one enterprising logger tied his raft house up at the place called Simon Sound. As the anchorage was good and the location was sheltered from wind and rain, he started a store. Gradually other floating dwellings were added until now steamships make regular calls to the port and the government has established a post office there. The main street of this floating city has all been connected and considerable city business has been done. Flowers have been planted along the way in old canoes and the storekeeper has a garden in an earthen-filled boat. In the winter many new floating homes are added to the city, but they stay away again when the loggers go back to logging with the return of good weather. —Pittsfield Magazine.

Puritan and Pilgrim Too Often Confused

I should like to call attention to a mistake which appeared in the Public Ledger of March 7. It was the confusion, or rather the mistaken identification, of "Pilgrims" and "Puritans." Even as well read and well educated a man as Theodore Roosevelt made this error and was corrected by Henry Cabot Lodge, writes Jane H. Furness in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Pilgrims settled Plymouth in 1620, while the Puritan migration did not take place until 1630, when the Bay colony was founded. No doubt both colonies were intolerant, according to our modern views, but the Puritans were stern in the extreme and manifested such as differed with them in religious beliefs. Among those banished were Roger Williams, Anne Hutchinson and the Quakers.

The Pilgrims colony for fifty years at least did not restrict the votes to church members as the Puritans did. Puritans were more intolerant than Pilgrims and Puritans seem inflexible to Philadelphia, but it is rather important in New England.

Freaks of Lightning

It is frequently said that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. This is not so. Only a few days ago two houses near Bristol, Conn., England, were struck for the second time within a few months.

Mr. W. Larkins, the well-known sheepbreeder, was once called upon to repair a house in Sussex that had actually been struck by lightning on three separate occasions.

During an investigation, that the building stood on a subsoil of ironstone, such as is found in many parts of the world of Sussex. This substance, of course, is a splendid conductor of electricity. Hence the partiality of the lightning for the house in question.

Trees With Latin Names

Latin has always been the language of scholars. It is now a dead language and consequently not being subject to change is helpful in giving tree accurate names that can be used in all parts of the world, regardless of the language spoken locally. The Romans called the oak Quercus. We still use this word as the first part of the scientific name. Our native name—Quercus alba. The word "alba" is appropriate, for it means white, and refers to the white bark. The red oak is known by the scientific name Quercus rubra. The word "rubra" is also appropriate, for it means red and describes the distinctive feature of the tree.—Joseph S. Black, in Tree Habits.

Identifying the Twins

Sir Henry Wood, the famous musician, is responsible for a delightful little story concerning baby twins who were so much alike that even their mother had difficulty in telling them apart. Not so their father, a pianist, who had his own profession's way of identifying his offspring. He explained to the friend who was admiring them he told the difference by pinching them.

"Good heavens! You must not do that. You'll make them cry." "Precisely," replied the father. "That's the whole secret. Listen. 'This one'—pinch—'is called'—Will. He cries on the high C. The other, James'—pinch—'is half a tone lower.'—San Francisco Argonaut.

Seek Prevention of Rust

In discussing advancements made in the direction of rust control, the Iron Age declares that the imagination readily pictures the large tonnage of life extension in the situation of such material for that which crumbles and disappears under common conditions of service. Two advance steps in the fight against rust are the direct and indirect method of supplying chromium. Patent complications which involve all rustless iron processes are said to be holding up their development on a commercial scale.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief.

BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

"A neighbor told me of and I began its use. I never have had so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—just rid of the bile and have my usual clear head. I feel full of pep, and could do just what I want to." Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Theodore's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it. All Druggists.

GEORGIA EDITORS ARE FETTERED IN NEW YORK

THREE-DAY PROGRAM FILLED TO LIMIT WITH SIGHTSEEING AND FESTIVITIES.

If Georgia editors have learned nothing else from the nine-day outing which carried them to New York and back, they at least learned that, with proper manipulation by those so inclined, a lot of interesting and enjoyable things can be crowded into a very brief time.

The first round of festivities of the outing, easily taking rank with any other feature in point of pleasure, was the entertainment accorded in Savannah Saturday, when breakfast was served at the Savannah Hotel by the hospitality of the two daily papers, the Morning News and the Savannah Press, and the luncheon at the same hotel under the auspices of the American Legion.

Savannah hosts started the editors off with a zest for the pleasures that were to crowd into the days that were to immediately follow.

Passing over the ocean trip, which has been casually referred to in another article, Tuesday morning, April 28th, found the gang of Georgia newspaper people debarking from the grand ship City of Chattanooga in New York, headed for the Waldorf, Astoria, at which hotel headquarters had been established for the three-day stay in the city. The Waldorf is a great hostelry. Special concessions had been granted for the press party there, and only words of the highest praise are to be heard for the services rendered.

After a couple of hours to get room assignments, the editorial gang were whisked away in four double-deck buses to the guests of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to a luncheon at their establishment in Brooklyn. The route led through an interesting section of New York and over one of the new bridges into Brooklyn. However much one may forget of the trip New York, this visit to the plant of the Lintype Company will ever be a pleasant and delightful memory. In the dining room where the thousands of employees of the company are fed daily, a luncheon was served that could not have been surpassed, at which the visitors were made welcome by officials of the company. Among those high up in the affairs of the company, and who contributed largely to the pleasure of the Georgians, was C. H. Griffith, well known personally to the Georgia delegation from having traveled this state in former years.

In the evening of the first day in the city, the Georgians were guests of the Georgia Society in New York at a dinner at the Strand Roof Garden, one of the wonderful high places of the city. It was an unique experience for Georgia editors to have offered them while they dined the class of entertainment they found at the Strand—well shaped girls scantily clad, dancing in their midst to the rattle of dishes, added to comedy and vaudeville by high class artists. Some of the edified joined in the dancing fully clad, and some of the editors are sedately, while most of them drank in the sights—including the parade.

Never was more lavish hospitality offered than by the Georgia New Yorkers who were our hosts. Hot T. B. Felder, a prominent attorney of the metropolis, is the retiring president of the society and contributed largely to the pleasure of the occasion.

The newspaper people were not in New York to do business, but they grasped the opportunity to see business in operation at the stock exchange on the second day of their stay in the city. The intricacies of the exchange were explained with a minuteness that was instructive by President Simmons, recently elected head of the organization.

From the stock exchange the gang was whisked away in buses to a New Jersey Central ferry boat for a trip up the river, ending at the great ship Leviathan, where luncheon was served. A cordial welcome was extended by the officers of the ship and a special welcome by a former Georgian, A. M. Bryan, at one time

J. ROBERT GROOVER ENDS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

J. Robert Groover, aged 57 years, died by his own hand at his home in the East district Sunday afternoon. The weapon of destruction was a shotgun loaded with buckshot, with which he blew off the back of his head.

Members of Mr. Groover's family inside the house, heard the shot and found him lying upon the steps of his back porch already dead.

During the day he had been apparently in his usual spirit and gave no intimation that he contemplated self-destruction. He left no note or other explanation. It is believed, however, that business worries drove him to take his life. His home was advertised to sell under a security deed before the court house Tuesday and he was quite heavily involved financially.

Interment was at Lower Lots Creek church cemetery Monday afternoon, being in charge of the Statesboro Undertaking Company.

Besides his wife, he is survived by 9 daughters and one son. Another son, James Groover, died from poison taken accidentally three years ago when he took a mercury tablet by mistake for aspirin. The young man was in Beaumont, Texas, at the time he took the poison. His father went to him and in a wild rage against death lost the race when the young man died on the train near Dover, less than twenty miles from home after three days and nights of continued travel.

BALL PLAYERS HURT WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

Members of the Ad Club baseball team, returning from Brooklet last Wednesday afternoon, had a narrow escape from serious injury when the Ford in which they were riding did an acrobatic stunt on Savannah avenue just inside the city limits.

Five members were in the car and all were more or less shaken up and bruised. The driver, who was seriously hurt, was carried to the hospital for emergency treatment. He is able to be out today, however.

B. H. Ramsey was driving the car. In attempting to pass another car, he ran into a sandhill and the car turned over. One front wheel was shattered.

McDOUGALD TELLS WORLD OF THE MERITS OF OUR MAMMOTH HAMS.

(W. E. McDougald, in Atlanta Journal of Tuesday)

Statesboro, Ga., May 2.—Two hams that weigh 100 pounds each on display at the curing plant of the Statesboro Provision Company are exciting a great deal of comment from people visiting the plant. According to Mr. B. A. Adams, manager of the plant, these are the largest ever cured here, although they have on hand at the present time several weighing from 65 to 75 pounds. These were cured for Van Bousley, one of the largest farmers in the county, and came from a hog he believed to be the largest hog ever butchered in this section of the state. The hog when butchered was estimated to weigh 1,000 pounds, although no scales large enough to weigh him were available on the farm. The head weighed 100 pounds, and, according to butchers, the head always averages one-tenth the total weight of a hog. At current prices these two hams would bring $70. Imagine the consternation of the average householder who phones the butcher to "send up a ham," when the bill is presented for $35 for one ham. The two hams would serve 1,600 people the meat portion of a ham and eggs dish at the average restaurant.

The records of the curing plant disclose that it has cured for Bulloch farmers 243,000 pounds of hams and shoulders this season. This, according to W. D. Hillis, county agent, represents about one-fifth of the bacon killing on Bulloch farms, which he estimates at a total of 1,250,000. When these figures are taken into consideration, it is readily understood why Bulloch county is independent of the packers. In addition to this, Bulloch farmers have shipped 174 carloads of livestock this season, and from the four principal shipping points of the county. To this should be added at least 25 carloads from smaller shipping points and towns in other counties bordering the Bulloch line. The value of the butchered meat and the 200 carloads selling "on foot" easily totals $450,000 and represents a larger per cent of profit than any other farm product, unless it be chickens and eggs.

And speaking of chickens and eggs, Bulloch has already shipped $155,000 of eggs and chickens in the past twelve months, with the industry growing by leaps and bounds. The county now employs for part time work W. C. McCoy, a poultry expert recommended by the department of agriculture. Regular poultry sales are held by the county agent at which time buyers from New York and Philadelphia compete with local buyers. At the last sale, C. W. Brannen, a prominent local merchant who has been furnishing the farmers with a splendid cash market, bought $248 worth of chickens and eggs in addition to the car loaded by the New York buyers. Local bankers state that livestock and chickens have done more for the prosperity of the county than any other product of which they have knowledge. The deposits of all the county banks are holding

TAX EQUALIZERS HAVE BEGUN THEIR LABORS

Bulloch county's tax equalization board began their work of equalizing taxes Monday. Beginning with the 44th district, the work will be continued through the districts in numerical order, and will require at least three weeks.

It is said that fewer than half a dozen persons were found to have neglected to make returns in the 44th district, and it is believed that the balance of the county will show about the same condition.

The equalizers have given special notice that all persons who failed to make returns will be double taxed as required by law. It might be a good idea for any person who has a good excuse for delinquency to make that excuse before the board before he finds the double-tax upon him.

COLORED SCHOOL BUILDING NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Contractor S. J. Proctor is now placing the finishing touches on the new colored school building being erected in the place of the buildings destroyed by fire early in the year. The work is being done by contract with the city school board and the buildings are modern and roomy. Following the destruction of the buildings, said to have been the work of an insane negro who was later committed to the state asylum where he died, William James, head of the school, received many generous contributions from friends both here and in the North. Still other promises have been received and the new buildings will be equipped in a way that will be a credit to the colored people of the community.

J. R. DOACH IN FLORIDA SEEKING LOCATION FOR HOME

J. R. Doach left yesterday for Florida to make a second inspection tour with a view to locating there for the practice of law. He was accompanied by H. R. Tarver, Jr., of Gurdon, who is also an attorney and who will locate in that state.

Mr. Doach spent several weeks in Florida earlier in the spring and was favorably impressed with conditions there.

Not only was the weather ideal for the entire time on the water, but the good ship City of Chattanooga, one of the newest and sturdiest of the Ocean Steamship Company's fleet, provided every luxury that the heart could wish. Her officers studied every comfort of the passengers in their care, and the service could not have been better anywhere.

Besides the officers of the ship, there were present and contributing to the pleasure of the trip, President L. A. Downs of the Central of Georgia Railway, and his assistant, a prince of good fellows, Jack McCurtrey, both accompanied by their charming wives. The Ocean Steamship Company's Eastern representative, Mr. Angevine, of New York, also made the trip and rendered every possible courtesy.

THAT OCEAN VOYAGE AGAIN

Back at Home.

In last week's issue there appeared in this identical space an article under the heading, "Editorial Correspondence," which was explained to be a sort of forecast written by the editor in anticipation of his ocean trip to New York.

Our readers will recall that the trend of the article was an intense apprehension that there was going to be a record-breaking case of sea sickness when the editor would probably be the party of the first part. Quite a few of our friends have told us that they felt disappointment at reading through the article to find that it was built upon fear and imagination rather than upon fact.

We hope that it will not add to the disappointment of any friend to be told that the worst the editor feared never happened. So entirely unfounded were those fears, that the entire ocean voyage was almost devoid of excitement. In the light of experience, having spent five full days and six nights (the days and nights were not the editor's) on the water, we find ourselves wondering how we ever imagined such awful things as we did in connection with the trip. It would be slightly at variance with truth to deny that there were times on the voyage when a sort of tenderness arose down in the lower part of our manly bosom, for the moment seemed to be a part of the telephone directory in an uprising of our innermost fears. But through it all we held our own and went to the dinner table fifteen times out of sixteen opportunities on the ship. We would have gone that other time and made a perfect score, but what's the use of going to the table when you are not hungry—when that un-hungry feeling is moving stealthily up and down your bosom in a tantalizing way? Besides, somebody had gone into the dining room, left their home in Hapeville, Monday, in a covered wagon on an extended tour of Georgia and Florida in search of health.

The covered wagon, the future home of the travelers, was especially built for the trip but unlike the old-time canvas top of the Oregon trail, was equipped with a modern automobile top and has been well screened. The interior had been fitted with spring beds and curtains, and a trailer was added for carrying provisions of the camp, utensils. A husky mule provided the motive power.

For several months Mr. McCright has been in poor health and was advised by his physician to leave his work as head of the publishing department of the telephone directory and seek open air. In order to regain his health, Mr. McCright decided to travel "Gypsy style" and to live in the open for the next several months.

Word got aboard concerning his plans and many people called at the McCright home Sunday and viewed the unique outfit. At the same time they bade the family goodbye and wished them success on their trip. Mr. McCright plans to buy and sell real estate and at the same time enjoy the freedom of the open air.

TRAINWELL RETURNS FROM SIX WEEKS IN FLORIDA Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Trapnell returned last Wednesday from a six week's prospecting tour through the state of Florida. They went in their car and conferred the entire state,
